

To whom it may concern,

Please allow me to introduce myself. My name is Robert and I am a Flatiron School graduate, and recently completed a Java intense course provided by Infosys. I am in search of an opportunity such as yours, and willing to forego a high paying salary in regards to proving my worth, and how I can help scale productivity. I hope we can speak more about my experiences, my qualifications, and how I can be of value to your great organization.

My experience aligns well with the qualifications that you are seeking, and I wholeheartedly believe that I would make a valuable addition to your organization given the opportunity. I am a confident communicator, strategic thinker, team player, and develop software that is customized to meet a company's organizational needs, highlight their core competencies, and further their success. If granted the opportunity to work for you, I will bring the same drive and motivation over to your team.

Other notable qualifications include:

- Team player
- Proven track record of success
- Consistent focus on developmental skills and progress

Please review my attached resume for any further additional details regarding my career experience. I would love to continue a discussion about how I can best serve your needs, and would thank you for your time and consideration.

Best,

Robert Morales
